Remember:

You must be ready for your presentation at the beginning of the period. On presentation days you will be responsible for taking notes of the presentations of others as well as notes on the feedback you receive from the class. You will also have a rubric for your presentation and notes as each of these will be part of your final grade.

What you must have before your presentation:

- Share completed bullet point notes or slides with Mr. Gallardo before the start of class
- Have notes open and ready to listen to those presenting
- Updated Annotated bibliography shared before class
- Updated reading notes shared before class
- Abstract of presentation shared before class.
- Presentation checklist completed and shared before class
